Your Submitted Press Release

St. John's Bay, Honduras, June 16, 2025 — Alloy, a next-generation platform combining AI agents, real-time trading, and gamified Web3 tools, today announced the upcoming Initial Exchange Offering (IEO) of its native token $ALLOY on P2B Exchange. Built on the Solana blockchain, Alloy delivers a seamless on-chain experience inside Discord and desktop environments through fully integrated, user-owned technology.

Designed for Web3 traders, server owners, and community builders, the Alloy ecosystem empowers users to interact with blockchain tools natively — without external dashboards, third-party bots, or centralized control.

Unified Product Ecosystem

$ALLOY powers a comprehensive suite of Web3 infrastructure tools:

Alloy AI Agent – A local desktop AI assistant that helps users trade, analyze tokens, and interact with the crypto market using voice commands and customizable personas.

Alloy Discord Dashboard – A native Discord Activity hub that enables token trading, launchpad access, NFT management, and market news — all from within a Discord server, without installing additional apps.

Alloy Enhanced Extension – A browser extension that detects and analyzes tokens and social media content in real time, giving users instant access to blockchain insights while browsing.

Built-In Revenue Sharing for Communities

Unlike referral-heavy Web3 bots, Alloy offers true community monetization. Server owners earn automatic fee splits from trades conducted within their Discord servers, with no links or manual setup required. Referral agents can also onboard new communities and earn lifetime commission from server activity.

Future Roadmap Milestones

Alloy is actively expanding its ecosystem with features that blend gaming, AI, and DeFi:

- Alloy Frontiers — A bullet-hell MMO RPG that runs inside Discord. Players explore crypto-themed realms, complete dungeons, and earn exclusive NFT items.
- Gamified Customization — Users unlock NFT-based appearances and trading perks by customizing their AI Agent.

- AI Expansion — Support for dynamic language model switching, personalized feed parsing, and smart risk detection modules.

"Alloy is redefining how people experience crypto," said the Alloy team. "From AI to gameplay to monetization, we're delivering an all-in-one platform that belongs to the user — not the network."
