Your Submitted Press Release

Marina del Rey, California, United States, 23rd Feb 2026 - Bacon Magazine, a media publication focused on Black women in business and culture based in Los Angeles, California, today announced the release of its February 2026 Digital Spotlight Cover feature on Eddie Dee Williams, founder of The Affinity Saga, an independently published fantasy and science fiction company based in Valdosta, Georgia.

The February 2026 Digital Spotlight Cover centers on The Affinity Saga's national literary recognition received across fantasy and science fiction categories in 2025 and 2026. The feature examines the company's receipt of three national literary awards, two finalist recognitions, and one nomination across multiple independent literary award platforms.

The Affinity Saga's debut title, The Affinity Theory, received First Place in Fantasy - Superheroes at the Bookfest Spring 2025 Awards, a Winner designation in Fantasy at the 2025 Literary Global Independent Author Awards, and a Winner in Science Fantasy at the Winter 2025 Pinnacle Book Achievement Award, presented by the National Association of Book Entrepreneurs.

The feature additionally covers the title's Finalist designation in Science Fiction and Finalist designation in Debut Fiction at the 2025 Literary Global Independent Author Awards, as well as its nomination for the TOO LIT! Award from the It's Lit! Literary Awards, presented by Black Girls Who Write, in 2026.

"The national literary recognition received by The Affinity Saga reflects the excellence and achievement that we are committed to highlighting within our community." - Andrea Harris-Walker, Founder, CEO, and Editor-in-Chief, Bacon Magazine

The Affinity Saga publishes titles in the fantasy and science fiction genres with a focus on superhero fiction for adult readers. The company was founded by Eddie Dee Williams, a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist based in Valdosta, Georgia. The company currently publishes two titles, The Affinity Theory and Echoes.
