Your Submitted Press Release

Nauphilus.io received the Premio Nacional de Liderazgo this week for its contributions to the technology sector. The company also confirmed a strategic collaboration with Amazon Web Services (AWS) to expand its behavioral artificial intelligence capabilities. This move positions the firm to deliver cloud-native technical infrastructure to its growing client base.

The National Leadership Award, granted by Salón de la Fama México, recognizes individuals and organizations demonstrating excellence in technical strategy. Mauricio Perez y Sosa, Head of Solutions Architecture & AI at Nauphilus.io, earned the distinction for merging behavioral science with AI. The company now moves into a formal relationship with AWS to support global scalability and high-performance deployment.

"This recognition is a testament to our team's hard work and our commitment to driving innovation in the AI space," said Mauricio Perez y Sosa, Head of Solutions Architecture & AI at Nauphilus.io. "Collaborating with AWS will allow us to scale our solutions and deliver even greater value to our clients as they embark on their digital transformation journeys."

The collaboration provides Nauphilus.io with access to specialized cloud resources and machine learning frameworks. These tools help the company build predictive models that analyze human behavior to optimize organizational decision-making. Recent data indicates that businesses using these systems improve performance across recruitment, insurance claims, and risk control.

Key highlights of the expansion include:

- Integration of AWS cloud-native architecture into behavioral AI workflows.
- Development of proprietary systems that combine human insights with machine intelligence.
- Expansion of technical operations to support Latin American and global markets.
- Enhanced data processing speed for real-world AI execution.

The award was presented in Mexico City, highlighting the company's influence in the global AI ecosystem. Nauphilus.io continues to focus on building human-centered systems that solve complex organizational challenges.
