Dover, Delaware, United States, 18th Aug 2025 – Tapayz, a leading U.S.-based fintech company specializing in cryptocurrency payment solutions and crypto-enabled debit card issuance, today announced the official launch of its Tapayz Card, a next-generation payment solution designed to bridge the gap between digital assets and traditional financial systems.

The Tapayz Card enables users to convert cryptocurrency into fiat currency in real time, facilitating payments via a major global card network and cash withdrawals at ATMs worldwide. “The Tapayz Card is a game-changer for crypto adoption, providing instant liquidity and accessibility without the need for centralized exchanges,” said Alessandro Romano, Chief Operating Officer of Tapayz. “Even before our official launch, we have received strong pre-launch interest, and users will also benefit from P2P crypto top-up capabilities across multiple regions.”

The rollout is built on licensed processing and banking infrastructure, ensuring secure, compliant, and scalable operations. Tapayz will begin its initial rollout in Southeast Asia, followed by expansion into Africa and other emerging markets, promoting financial inclusion and delivering efficient, borderless payment solutions.

Tapayz also announced upcoming service enhancements, including:

- API-driven merchant integration tools
- White-label debit card solutions for enterprises
