Your Submitted Press Release

November 25, 2024 – TraderKnows is excited to announce the launch of the new “TK Weekly Cup” Demo Trading competition, offering global traders an excellent platform to showcase their trading skills. This risk-free competition allows participants to practice their trading strategies on demo accounts while competing for attractive prizes and advancing towards real trading opportunities.

Showcase Your Trading Skills and Win Attractive Rewards

Whether you're a beginner or an experienced trader, the “TK Weekly Cup” offers an ideal stage for you to shine. The competition is completely free to enter, and all participants will use EXNESS demo accounts, ensuring a fair and transparent competition environment. Every two weeks, a new competition cycle will begin, giving participants the chance to accumulate experience, improve their trading skills, and strive for excellent results over multiple cycles.

Referral Rewards – Share and Earn

In addition to competition rewards, participants can also earn extra cash by referring friends to join the contest. For every friend who successfully registers and participates, the referrer will receive a $2 cash reward. This not only provides additional earning opportunities but also helps expand the TraderKnows trading community.

Risk-Free Environment to Practice Your Trading Strategies

The biggest highlight of the “TK Weekly Cup” is its zero-risk trading environment. By trading on demo accounts, participants can freely experiment with different strategies and accumulate real-world trading experience without worrying about capital risk. This provides a valuable practice platform for new traders and a chance for experienced traders to demonstrate their skills.

Frequent Competition Opportunities for Ongoing Growth

TraderKnows is committed to offering participants frequent competition opportunities, with a new cycle starting every two weeks. This means that whether you're just starting out or already have some trading experience, you can continuously challenge yourself and improve your trading techniques. The short competition cycles and numerous opportunities ensure that you never miss a chance to showcase your abilities and earn rewards.

Intense Competition with Generous Rewards

The competition rewards are highly appealing. The top three winners will receive real live account or cash rewards valued at $1,000, $600, and $400, respectively. For those who choose a live trading account as their prize, TraderKnows will also offer profit-sharing opportunities. High-performing winners may even receive additional funding support to kickstart their real trading journey.

Join the TK Weekly Cup and Reach New Trading Heights

Whether your goal is to enhance your trading skills, showcase your expertise, or win generous live account rewards, the “TK Weekly Cup” offers a broad platform to achieve your objectives. Register now and join this risk-free Demo Trading competition to prove your trading ability to traders worldwide!
