Your Submitted Press Release

United States, 17th Jun 2025 - WMBT Exchange, a digital asset trading platform recognized for its emphasis on compliance, user education, and infrastructure integrity, has officially launched WPoints, a platform-native rewards system aimed at strengthening long-term user participation through non-monetary incentives and gamified engagement.

The WPoints system assigns value to verified user activities such as daily logins, trading volume, identity verification, educational progress, and successful referrals. Points earned through these activities can be redeemed for fee discounts, early access to token offerings, and exclusive access to platform-based campaigns or digital assets.

According to Matthew Collins, Director of Ecosystem Development at WMBT Exchange, “The introduction of WPoints represents a strategic move toward behavioral incentive design. It rewards users not just for trading volume, but for meaningful engagement that contributes to a resilient, self-sustaining ecosystem.”

Core Features of the WPoints System Include:

Progressive Tier Levels: WPoints accumulation contributes to tier advancement, unlocking additional features such as reduced withdrawal fees, enhanced API access, and higher transaction limits.

Education-Linked Incentives: Users can earn WPoints by completing curated courses on crypto safety, DeFi basics, and trading techniques through the WMBT Learning Hub.

Utility Beyond Redemption: In future roadmap phases, WPoints will be integrated into governance pilot modules, allowing high-tier users to vote on platform parameters or campaign priorities.

Security and Fair Use Protections: An anti-abuse mechanism using AI pattern recognition has been implemented to detect suspicious activity, fake referrals, and manipulation attempts to preserve system integrity.

The program will roll out globally in phases, beginning with selected user cohorts in Southeast Asia, Latin America, and Central Europe. Full access is expected across all verified accounts by Q4 2025. Early registrants will receive a limited-time WPoints bonus package tied to their onboarding milestones.

WMBT Exchange continues to position itself as a participatory infrastructure layer within the global digital finance movement—balancing security, usability, and user agency in every product release.
